

EDU 521 : Literacy in Middle School

An examination of the multiple literacies of middle school students and the teacher's responsibilities in guiding young adolescents' literacy development across the curricula are the major features of this course. Emphasis is placed in developing strategies for readers/writers and assisting struggling learners to mature.