

EDU 588 : Building Learning Communities

Course cultivates experience in planning, implementing and evaluating a variety of individual and group management techniques in childhood level classrooms. Both instructional management and classroom management are examined as means of increasing pupils' time on task and opportunity to learn. Student-teacher interaction models are also explored. 25 hours of fieldwork are required.