

EDU 599 : Topic:

This course is designed for in-depth discussion and analysis of one major educational topic. This is a multi-sectional course with each section centering upon one topic of national importance which has both immediate and long-range educational implications. The content is focused upon those factors which may be causing the topic to remain visible and the variety of ways in which concerns are expressed.